Charleston carriage rides most often come to mind when South Carolina is mentioned. But the Palmetto State also boasts some of the country's most scenic mountains and lakes, and custom builder Tom Dillard is doing his part to shine the spotlight on South Carolina's up-country.

From quaint cottages around Greenville, to high-style mountain or lakefront homes, the team at Dillard-Jones Builders isn't afraid to roll up their sleeves and put the custom back into homebuilding. "In the South, we have a profound sense of place," says Thomas Dillard, Founder and President of Dillard-Jones Builders, LLC. "Our homes portray our lifestyles and our loves. We work very hard to create homes that are unique to the personalities and needs of individual homeowners."

Tom became a member of the Southern Living Custom Builder Program in 2006, and is one of only 100 builders across the Southeast to hold this distinction. The magazine selects members by looking for innovative builders in towns across the south committed to quality architecture, design, and customer service. Each year one member is selected as the benchmark for the standards of the program.

"When you step into a house built by Dillard-Jones Builders, you feel at home," said Brent Warren, Manager of the Southern Living Custom Builder Program. "They get that it's the details that make a home truly special." For more information on Dillard-Jones Builders, visit SouthernLivingCustomBuilder.com.
